

Validum Institute Launches New Website and Expands Real Estate Training Across Australia

Brisbane, QLD – 12/06/2025 — Validum Institute, a leading provider of nationally recognised real estate training, is proud to announce the launch of its newly redesigned website and expanded course offerings. This milestone reflects Validum’s continued commitment to empowering the next generation of real estate professionals through flexible, affordable, and industry-relevant education.

The new website, accessible at www.validum.edu.au, offers an enhanced user experience, streamlined enrolment process, and mobile-optimised access to course content and student support. Prospective students can now explore and enrol in a wider range of qualifications, including the popular Certificate IV in Real Estate Practice (CPP41419) and Continuing Professional Development (CPD) courses tailored for Queensland, New South Wales, and Victoria.

“We’ve built our reputation on delivering real-world training that gets our students job-ready. This website relaunch is just one part of our broader mission to make high-quality real estate education more accessible and engaging than ever,” said Victor James, CEO of Validum Institute.

Validum Institute continues to stand out in the education sector with:

- Personalised student support and mentoring
- Industry-leading online portal for flexible learning
- Competitive pricing with no compromise on quality
- High completion and satisfaction rates among students

Whether students are starting a new career or upskilling, Validum Institute’s nationally accredited courses meet the evolving needs of the real estate industry.
