

The World's First Fully Solar-Powered Sauna Hits Australia

Finnish-made. Energy-smart. Fully off-grid. Only at Heavenly Saunas.

Melbourne, Australia — July 2025

As more Australians embrace the ancient ritual of sauna, a new era of innovation arrives with the launch of the Kirami FinVision® -sauna M Zero — the world's first fully solar-powered electric sauna. Brought exclusively to Australia by Melbourne-based premium wellness retailer Heavenly Saunas, it's a breakthrough in sustainable, off-grid self-care.

Handcrafted in Finland and delivered fully assembled, this state-of-the-art outdoor sauna blends traditional craftsmanship with modern energy technology, redefining what's possible for sustainable home wellness.

The M Zero runs entirely on solar power, providing the full sauna experience without ever needing to connect to mains electricity. It's a new kind of sauna, made for a modern way of living, where ritual, nature, and considered design work in harmony.

High design, low impact

Thoughtfully engineered for both form and function, the M Zero features Finnish excellence in design, European styling, premium materials, and a compact footprint that suits the Australian outdoors.

Inside, coral-white tiling, aromatic thuja timber panelling, and adjustable LED soft lighting create a warm, immersive wellness space. A panoramic tinted window connects you with the natural world outside, a gentle invitation to pause and be present.

"The M Zero is a world-first in sustainable home wellness", says Anna Millers, co-founder, "and we're excited to bring this Finnish innovation to Australian backyards."

With simple plug-and-play function and minimal energy draw, it's as practical as it is beautiful, blending effortlessly into natural outdoor spaces.

Smart, efficient, and ready to use

Arriving fully assembled and pre-fitted with solar panels and a lithium battery system, the M Zero requires no building or trades; simply switch on and tune out.

Its compact, fully insulated construction and high-performance Harvia Delta 3.6kW electric heater ensure rapid warm-up and exceptional energy efficiency.

Where most similar-sized saunas draw 8–10kW, the M Zero does more with much less — perfect for eco-conscious homeowners and off-grid locations alike.

A new way to sauna: intentionally and sustainably

Australia is catching on to the benefits of sauna therapy — from improved recovery and sleep to increased circulation and calm. The M Zero takes that one step further, proving that wellness and sustainability can share the same space.

Exclusively at Heavenly Saunas

Proudly available only through Heavenly Saunas, the Kirami FinVision® -sauna M Zero is a first for Australia, and a quiet revolution in meaningful outdoor living.
