

Roxbury's Steps Into Luxury: Designer Items & High Fashion at Auction

Roxbury's Auction House returns this month, not with rare coins or gold sovereigns, but with an exclusive selection of authenticated designer bags and luxury goods.

The Designer & Luxury Goods auction will take place Saturday 13th September, offering buyers a rare opportunity to acquire fashion icons at exceptional value.

Roxbury's has been entrusted with a consignment of luxury items forfeited to the Commonwealth and sold under the instructions of the Official Trustee. Each piece has been professionally cleaned (including dry cleaning for all apparel) and, where applicable, verified genuine using Entrupy authentication technology for peace of mind.

Among the highlights are:

- Handbags from Louis Vuitton, Fendi, Burberry, and Christian Dior
- Apparel, shoes, belts, and sunglasses from leading global fashion houses
- A designer Rolex 'Wimbledon' wristwatch
- A range of collectable Nike sneakers

No strangers to jewels, gems, and high fashion at auction, this sale is another example of the unique opportunities Roxbury's brings to the market. "It's about giving buyers the opportunity to access luxury at auction," said Director Scott Waterman. "From a timeless Louis Vuitton handbag to a rare pair of collectable sneakers or a piece of fine jewellery - it could be yours at a competitive price."
