

We've Been Robbed!

Melbourne, Australia (25 July 2021)

There are a number of Autoparts and Repair Service buyers out there who have been ripped off by wreckers, part sellers, and mechanics. Now, a new marketplace for auto parts and services valued at half a million dollars is set to save millions of buyers from being tricked into paying more again in future!

Founder Chai Bade said, "Many of my dearest friends have been tricked into paying three times the actual price for automobile parts and repairs. I know how painful it is to lose your hard-earned money, especially when you've worked so hard for every penny!"

With this in mind, Chai developed Swezo, a revolutionary and futuristic online marketplace that connects buyers and sellers within the automotive parts and services industry.

Developed using advanced angular technology and robust artificial intelligence algorithms, Swezo offers crystal clear transparency, which makes it obvious to buyers when they're being ripped off!

Here's how Swezo works:

1. Buyers post requests
2. Sellers browse requests, and send quotes for the ones they're interested in completing
3. Buyers review quotes, approve the best one, and make payment
4. Swezo securely holds payment until the job is done
5. Once the job is marked as complete by both the buyer and seller, Swezo releases payment into seller's bank account.

Since launching a few days ago, Swezo has gone viral! Already, many automobile wreckers, mechanics, and sellers have signed up, ready to be matched to buyers looking for their parts and services.

If you're ready to experience the world's first online marketplace for the automobile industry, and are keen to see why Swezo is capturing the industry by a storm, see for yourself. Visit swezo.com.au today.