Build Your Custom Storage Shed

A safe, closed, and durable space is needed to store your valuable goods, either it is for your business assets or your bikes and other valuable sports equipment. When your valuables are stored out of view, it will make them less appealing to thieves.

Durable sheds can protect your assets safe from damages caused by weather like rust and heavy rainfall. Keeping your things safe from rough weather conditions and secure enough not to be stolen could save you a fortune from replacing or fixing them.

The Benefits of our Custom Storage Shed

Using Australian steel for sheds has been well known for its durability. It is manufactured to be versatile and cost-effective for any type of shed. However, many shed companies offer only a narrow range of standard sizes for their convenience. This is a problem for the customers because they will end up ordering too many materials that they don't really need. This will produce more waste than it should.

Ordering too many materials means you have to pay more than you should because other shed companies only provide the "standard dimensions". This will also affect the supply. More supply could increase the probability of incorrect delivery because other companies did not personalise their distribution.

But not for our manufacturing! DesignerSheds provide you with materials made from Australian steel manufactured to your EXACT requirements. And no, our price does not come with a custom price tag!

Our shed manufacturing are designed for custom shed

There are three reasons our Australian steel could be manufactured based on your requirements:

1. Flexible engineering that allows you to customise the width, depth and height of your shed right down to the millimetre, and only pay for the change in materials – not the customisation.

2. A rock-solid supply process that guarantees that your Bill of Materials will be 100% correct.
3. Free storage shed design expertise to ensure you get the best possible shed that meets your needs exactly.

Now you understand why our company could deliver a simple process to build your shed while at the same time, offering a great price!

Choose shed features that you want

Focusing on maximum functionality and enhancing the value of your property, we are providing you with the best shed you really want, not the one you are told you can have.

We have 10 features that you can choose from!

Qualities we provided for every sheds we built

1. Edges: While some other industrial sheds companies leave metal edges exposed, we roll our edges and add flashing so there is no untidy or sharp metal to cause cuts or injuries and create an OH&S nightmare.
2. Gutters: Many industrial sheds companies attach their gutters using a basic screw through the back of the gutter. We use robust gutter brackets to prevent your gutters flexing and overflowing during heavy rain.
3. Framing: And while other industrial sheds kit companies use lighter gauge frames for partitions and ends (which makes it almost impossible to extend or modify in the future), your Designer Shed utilises full-strength frames throughout for maximum strength.
4. 100% Australian Steel: While some industrial sheds companies use flimsy and unproven imported steel, we use only tried and true BlueScope steel. It's been holding up industrial sheds around Australia for decades. Australian steels are the best for the Australian climate. And it's backed by a solid, local warranty. One less thing to worry about: industrial shed prices. As it is locally manufactured, it will always have competitive prices.

5. Rust-resistant Screws: Your industrial sheds are only as strong as its weakest component. In many cases, that's the screws. Do you know how to tell if industrial sheds have cheap screws? More often than not, they are the industrial sheds you see being blown away in a cyclone on the TV news. That's why we only use stronger, rust-resistant Buildex screws.
6. Independent certification: Have you heard the saying: "It's only as good as the paper it's written on"? Nothing could be truer when it comes to engineering certification for your new industrial sheds. Many industrial sheds companies have in-house engineers who simply rubber-stamp everything they design. However, our designs are rigorously scrutinised and independently certified by cyclone specialist engineers. So you know they are built to last.
