FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Matt Dunning Appointed as Partner at ResolveXO

Sydney, NSW, 1 Jul 2024 - ResolveXO is proud to announce the appointment of Matt Dunning as a Partner in our firm, effective 1st July 2024. Matt, who currently serves as an Associate in the Industrial sector, brings a wealth of experience and expertise to his new role.

Matt Dunning has had a successful career, both as a professional rugby player and as an industrial property strategist. Born in Canada and raised in Sydney, Matt represented the Australian Wallabies in Rugby Union before retiring in 2011.

During his rugby career, Matt cultivated his interest in the property industry. After retiring from professional rugby, he transitioned into a career as a tenant representative specialising in industrial markets. Matt has since accumulated extensive experience in managing industrial portfolios for national clients, excelling in acquisitions, rent reviews, property disposals, and lease negotiations. His dedication and integrity have made him a trusted advisor to his clients.

"I am honoured and excited to step into the role of Partner at ResolveXO. Having navigated both the sporting field and the industrial property market, I've learned the importance of strategic planning, decisive action and teamwork. Just as in rugby, where every move can change the game, in the industrial property sector, making the right decision drives business success. I am looking forward to collaborating with our talented team and clients to continue delivering the best outcomes together." – Matt Dunning, Partner at ResolveXO

As a Partner at ResolveXO, Matt will contribute to the firm's long-term vision and strategy, ensuring that ResolveXO continues to deliver outstanding results for its clients.

ResolveXO's Partners are recognised for their excellence within the real estate industry and their significant commercial acumen. They play a crucial role in client acquisition, business development, and maintaining high standards of client service.

"We are excited to have Matt join the ResolveXO partnership. Matt has significantly contributed to our firm, bringing exceptional experience and expertise in crucial areas for our clients. We are confident that his leadership will further strengthen our capabilities and high standards of service that our clients expect." – Nick Blakely, Partner at ResolveXO
