ResolveXO Secures Third Win at 2024 RICS Awards

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ResolveXO has been named the Real Estate Advisory Team of the Year by RICS, marking the firm's second consecutive win and third overall in the category since its inception in 2019. This recognition solidifies ResolveXO's position as a leader in the corporate real estate sector, consistently delivering forward-thinking strategies and innovative solutions.

The project submitted for this year's award showcased ResolveXO's work with KPMG at International Towers, Barangaroo, one of the world's most environmentally sustainable office buildings. Led by Adam Hodgson, ResolveXO successfully managed KPMG's property portfolio, with the team developing sophisticated financial models to analyse 25 different workspace scenarios. The project was designed to optimise KPMG's long-term occupancy while addressing challenges like surplus space and subleases. Furthermore, the project demonstrated a strong commitment to sustainability, aligning KPMG's business objectives with the green credentials of Barangaroo.

The Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors (RICS) Awards are highly esteemed in the property sector, honouring excellence and the highest industry standards. Competing against global industry heavyweights, ResolveXO's success highlights the strength of a 100% Australian-owned company, proving that local expertise can thrive at the highest level of the market through conflict-free advice and integrity.

Since entering the awards in 2020, ResolveXO has won the Real Estate Advisory Team of the Year category three times, making it the most awarded team in this category. This sustained success highlights the company's excellence in innovative solutions, strategic portfolio management, and its commitment to consistently delivering value-driven outcomes for clients.

"I'm proud of the high level of professionalism our team brings to every project," said Stuart Allison, CEO of ResolveXO. "To be recognised by RICS, a global leader in setting the highest standards in the industry, is an incredible honour. Our clients are our priority and we ensure their needs are at the forefront of everything we do. We couldn't have achieved this without their trust and the commitment of our talented team."

Additionally, Jacob Digby, a consultant at ResolveXO was recognised as a finalist in the Emerging Achiever of the Year category, reinforcing the firm's ongoing commitment to nurturing top talent within the industry.

With this latest accolade, ResolveXO looks forward to continuing its journey of excellence in the corporate real estate landscape, setting new benchmarks for service and innovation.
