PERTH BASED PHARMACY DELIVERY APP OFFERS FREE DELIVERY TO ENTIRE PERTH METRO IN LIGHT OF COVID DELTA STRAIN

Packapill is a Perth based pharmacy delivery app offering customers contactless delivery of prescriptions and over the counter medicines in under 3 hours.

Given the most recent COVID lockdown restrictions put in place by the McGowan government, and the rolling wave of colds and flus currently rampant in Perth – Packapill is turning off all delivery charges in the app, regardless of location or order size.

'Packapill is immediately turning off all delivery charges to help West Aussies stay home and stay safe during these unprecedented times', Lenin – Packapill Co-Founder announced today.

This gives everyone the opportunity to get what they need from the pharmacy without having the risk of having to leave home.

'We know many people struggle to get to the pharmacy or the doctor when lockdowns are in place, and there is a fear of contagion in all medical facilities. We are doing what we can to help, so that our risks as a state are reduced'. Says Lenin, Co-Founder of Packapill.

Packapill has experienced rapid growth since its inception in 2019, including partnerships with major pharmacy chains Wizard, SuperChem and Optimal as well as many community pharmacies across the metro area.

When it comes to privacy and data security, Packapill abides by strict national standards for the secure encryption and transfer of health information between customers and pharmacists. Including secure delivery drivers, certified to handle medications providing contactless delivery.

Packapill is more than just a medicine delivery app though, the app also allows users to:

- organise a call from their local pharmacist if they are unsure which over the counter medication they need
- order prescriptions from a local pharmacy
- order all non prescription items from the pharmacy
- track medications with medication reminders and automated script refilling
- manage medications for family members

- enables care facilities to manage a large number of patients seamlessly within the app

Packapill will keep all delivery charges on pause until the lockdown restrictions are lifted, in line with the McGowan government announcements.

The entire Packapill team will work tirelessly to ensure the health and safety of every West Australian.

Packapill delivers within 50km of the Perth CBD, throughout the entire metro area.
