Dr Saba Qutub wins TWO gold at 2021 AusMumpreneur Awards

Dr Saba Qutub, from Geelong, who founded Armstrong Health and DRSQ Skincare business has been named AusMumpreneur "Multicultural Business Excellence Award" and "Health Business Award" winner.

The awards were held at an online event where talented mums in business from all over the country gathered to support and encourage other Australian mumpreneurs.

Dr Saba Qutub said she was excited to win in her categories in the 2021 AusMumpreneur Awards against such a talented group of women.

Dr Qutub, winner of the AusMumpreneur Awards , describes her feelings and emotions after winning the awards. She said, "When asked how I feel about winning the award, a number of adjectives come to mind. I quickly realised that no words could actually describe how I felt. I feel honoured, elated and inspired."

AusMumpreneur awards are an acknowledgment of a job well done and justification for the agony, the self-doubt, and the hard work that went into winning them. Winning an award opens doors to new business and new contacts. Employees feel better too – Staff morale and motivation often improve when a company wins a business award.

"I greatly admire the other women and Finalists in the AusMumprenur awards. Every single one of them are incredible women and doing such an amazing job at being a mum and a business owner. A big congrats to everyone - finalists and winners. And an enormous thank you to Peace and Katy and the team at AusMumpreneur."

AusMumpreneur was created to support Australian entrepreneurs like [insert your name] and her fellow AusMumpreneur Award winners, Peace Mitchell, cofounder of AusMumpreneur said.

"These awards are all about recognising the growing number of mums who are achieving outstanding business success while balancing motherhood."

"I was blown away by the entrepreneurial spirit, resilience and professionalism of the award winners and I know that they will provide great inspiration for other mums considering starting their own business," Peace said.

This is the twelfth year the AusMumpreneur Awards have run, with the business mum community growing at lightning speed as mothers look for opportunities to join the ranks of small business owners in search of more flexibility, financial freedom and family time.

AusMumpreneur Network co-founder Katy Garner said "the awards show the passion of women who want to fulfil their entrepreneurial dreams as well as be great mums.

"Despite the pandemic the number of women starting businesses has continued to grow in the last 12 months! We are thrilled to be the number one community for mumpreneurs and proud to showcase the best and the brightest each year through these awards."

"We are delighted that Dr Saba Qutub has won this award, she has created an outstanding business and is an inspirational role model and ambassador for mums in business everywhere. We wish her and all our amazing Ausmumpreneur Award winners every success in the coming year," co-founder Peace Mitchell said.
