

iam8bit asia is now taking pre-orders for Persona's 25th Anniversary 15-LP retrospective box set!

iam8bit asia, which sells game music and related goods based on the concept of "turning games into art," is now taking pre-orders for the Persona's 25th Anniversary Deluxe Box Set. Reservations will be accepted for a limited time only, so don't delay in making yours!

The collection bundles together more than eight-and-a-half hours of ATLUS Sound Team's newly remastered music from Persona 1, 2 (Innocent Sin and Eternal Punishment), 3, 4, and 5. Each of the 15 LPs are pressed on colored vinyl and themed to each Persona. Since personalization has long been a touchstone in Persona, each game-specific box is customizable using included sets of unique stickers. The entire collection slides into a beautiful slip case, which celebrates the iconic series' 25th anniversary.

The Persona 25th Anniversary Deluxe Box Set is ¥50,490, and fans can also purchase each entry within the collection individually. Persona 1-2 are bundled together and will sell for ¥11,880. Persona 3, 4, and 5 are priced at ¥12,980 apiece.

The albums are scheduled to arrive in Q3 2022.

Please take this opportunity to see the unique and creative works of iam8bit.

ABOUT iam8bit asia

Founded in 2005, iam8bit is a creative production company that refuses to be pigeonholed, having crafted unique and memorable experiences for a broad spectrum of brands like HBO, Nintendo, PlayStation, Disney, MTV, Activision, Universal, Capcom, Interscope, Warner Bros., Machinima and countless others.

These attentively cultivated experiences come in many forms — from events to one-of-a-kind mailers to commercials and films. In addition, iam8bit is currently developing several original IPs for feature, TV and digital distribution — as well as curating regular exhibitions at their Los Angeles-based gallery.

The company is co-owned by Jon M. Gibson and Amanda White.
