MEDIA RELEASE

First sod to turn on Game Changing Disability Housing Project on Friday 17th February 2023.

Canopy SDA is delighted to announce Cr Kylie King along with CEO Adam Strong will turn the first sod on an exciting new Specialist Disability Apartment Development on Friday 17th February 2023 at 2pm. This sod turning ceremony will mark the beginning of construction of the SDA (Specialist Disability Accommodation) development which has been custom designed to meet the emotional, physical and logical needs of 6 individuals living with disability in Albury.

Located at 499 Alldis Avenue Albury, the site has been chosen for its location close to amenities, services, transport, and hospitals, enabling greater security, freedom and independence for the new residents.

Investment Partner Synergis shares the Canopy SDA vision of developing affordable, beautiful, functional, green homes for those who need them most and is extremely proud to play a major role in the development of the ground breaking venture.

“We’ve taken our interaction with the SDA (Special Disability Accommodation) environment slowly and with great care and purpose. It’s taken considerable effort to align our combined skills and experience in the building industry with the intricate and variable needs of those living with a disability in our community. Our persistence has culminated in a unique option for those looking to engage a partner to design and build their ideal SDA approved home. We’ve assessed the needs, created the solutions and are ready to make a positive difference to the lives of those who need it most...This project is just the beginning” CEO Adam Strong said.
